Amendments to Indexing Terms

This notice outlines amendments to device indexing terms that will have an effect on searching strategies and watching services.

In response to feedback received from our customers, we have reviewed the use of the indexing term GROTESQUE. We propose to update all records that contain the indexing term GROTESQUE and replace it with the indexing term STYLISED on the weekend of 25 and 26 June 2005.

Given the large number of records to be updated (i.e. 50,000 plus), our Mainframe, ATMOSS and Image viewer systems are likely to be affected during this time.

Please consider this information prior to commencing searches or watching services after Sunday 26 June 2005.

If you would like to provide us with feedback regarding this advice:

- please phone our Customer Service Network on the numbers below; or
- alternatively complete our electronic feedback form via www.ipaustralia.gov.au/about/feedback.shtml
